Aesthetic dental procedures have been on the increase for the last decade. Dr. Thomas Adams and Dr. Paul Petrunaro have started to emerge as two of the nation's leading authorities in the realm of aesthetic and general dentistry as well as oral implantology.

Dr. Adams is a highly accomplished cosmetic and reconstructive dental surgeon. He graduated from Loyola University School of Dentistry in the Clinical Honors Program and was ranked number one in his class in clinical performance. Immediately after dental school, he served as a dental officer in the U.S. Navy where he completed many courses in advanced dental education. He became a life member of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States.

Presently, he is an active member of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, American Dental Association, International Academy of Oral Implantology, and is a Fellow of the International College of Dentists, to name only a few of his distinctions.

Dr. Petrunaro graduated from Loyola University Dental School and completed an independent study of periodontics at the National Dental School in the United Kingdom. He completed a residency and earned a specialty certificate and a Master of Science degree in periodontics from Northwestern University Dental School. He formerly served as the coordinator of implantology for the University's graduate Department of Periodontics. Dr. Petrunaro maintains private practices in both Illinois and Minnesota.

An internationally renowned and preeminent educator, he has presented numerous seminars and lectures worldwide. Dr. Petrunaro serves as a consultant to numerous biomedical companies and laboratories and has contributed to many innovations in aesthetic surgical dentistry. He is a Fellow of the International College of Dentists and is also a diplomat of the International Congress of Oral Implantology.

Drs. Adams and Petrunaro are the co-founders of the Institute for Advanced Dental Education, which is an approved facility for advanced dental education. They train both general and surgical dentists on the most state-of-the-art procedures in cosmetic dentistry and natural tooth replacement with implants.
